

Titel: Wheel of fortune Musik: Wolfgang Preskewitz Songtext: André R. Kohl

Dressed in tuxedos and black ball robes late at night armed with hopes and bills and ready for the fight temperature's rising, expectations do the same modern warriors for fortune and for fame clinging to their fates with empty eyes not knowing they will have to pay the price

Ref.:

Life is a wheel of fortune, it's spinning ‚round and ‚round, don't ever place your bet too soon you never know what's waiting for you on higher ground will it be luck, will it be ruin?

Adrenaline is purging, nerves are all on edge, „Tonight I'll make it!' is their monotonous pledge trying to reach the stars and make some dreams come true ending all the same, busted, broke and blue they are getting closer to the sheer and fall is not the biggest of their fear

Ref.:

Life is a wheel of fortune and time is fading fast you can't return to where you start you'll have to face the truth that nothing's made to last you'll have to keep the highest card

Life is a wheel of fortune and one thing is a fact there is no luck in someone's jones and if you're eager and you feel this damn' attract you'll soon be bitter to the bones

Life is a wheel of fortune, it always takes its price you're no exception to the rule luck is a moody bitch, so take this good advice just turn back or stay a fool
